For an Inclusive and Solidary European Generation

Europe is witnessing an unprecedented crisis, so what solutions can we expect from Europe's youth, especially towards the most vulnerable of its citizen ?

Bordeaux's Red Cross Local Youth Team would like to propose a European-wide project, both ambitious and innovative : the creation of an exchange network between young European volunteer groups, which would provide a rich and stimulating environment allowing for the birth of solutions to Europe's social integration problems.

Young people, tomorrow's generation, are particularly concerned by the issue these days. That's why the project is essential to them and they have to find the tools to reach social inclusive. In this way, the team of the Red Cross chooses to mobilize nearly fifteen national European sister companies.
